VILLAGE WELLSPRINGS

Hooksett Village Water Precinct recently accepted New England Water Works Association 2014 "Utility of the Year" award for its "significant improvements to the water system infrastructure, customer service, staff training, and operations to further protect public health of customers it serves." We are striving to provide Hooksett Village with an excellent-quality ground-water (well) system for generations to come.

"I personally refill my water bottles with tap water from our wells. Most of the year I don't even have to cool them in the fridge! It's excellent quality well-water from a natural glacial aquifer." ----tony amato, asst. Supt., Village Water PCT.
Note: In the mid-1800's, bricks made from clay (that originated from a glacial lake in Hooksett) were floated down the Merrimack to Manchester to build the largest set of textile mills in the world.—source: "Ground-Water Resources in NH."

We sincerely thank all those who clear snow from the fire hydrants in proximity to their homes and businesses. This helps greatly in rapid snow removal for fire protection and saves in labor costs.

Welcome to David Foote, HVWP's new Superintendent, who brings 30+ years of experience to Hooksett Village Water Precinct.
